Networking: Adding Friends

The image shows two screenshots of the State Alumni website. The top screenshot displays the 'Find Fellow Alumni' search page with a search form containing fields for Username, First/Last Name, Last Family/Middle Name, Exchange Program (set to 'Florence School'), and Country/Territory (set to 'All Countries'). A 'Search >>' button is visible. To the right, there is a 'Browse By Region' section with a world map and a 'Worldwide' link. Below the map is a 'Continental List' with links to 'Return to State Alumni Home', 'Atlantic Association of Business Communities', 'CISALIA', 'Mid-Atlantic Community', 'Ultramarine Community', and 'Ministry Integration Community'. A red box highlights the 'View Profile' link in the search results.

The bottom screenshot shows the profile page for 'John Stamus' (Member since 2008/08). The profile includes a 'Back to search' link, a 'Add me to your Network' button, and a profile picture. The profile details include: 'From: Evolution at Visit my website at Visit my', 'View My Profile', 'Name: International Under Leadership Program', 'View: 2007/02/01 - 2007/04/01', and 'Impact Statement: This program exposed me to a range of possibilities within my profession. It has enhanced my knowledge and polished my ability to do more for my community.' Below this is a 'A Little About Me' section with a disclaimer: 'This is a listed account for the Office of Alumni Affairs and not an actual person. My personal interests and hobbies are: My academic professional interests are:'. A red box highlights the 'Add me to your Network' button, which is also shown in a separate callout box at the bottom of the image.

Program

Name: Critical Language Scholarships for Intensive Summer Institutes
Year: 2007/06 - 2007/08
Field of Study: International Relations/Area Studies
Impact Statement:
I participated in the CLS - Korea program two years after graduation. CLS gave me a second chance to study U.S.-Asia regional security issues through first hand experience. I was able to visit parts of Seoul that are directly affected by the U.S. military presence that I researched at the EWC and during graduate school. Through my CLS experience, I was able to gain a broader perspective of U.S.-Asia security conditions and extrapolate on my experiences living and studying in Japan.

Program

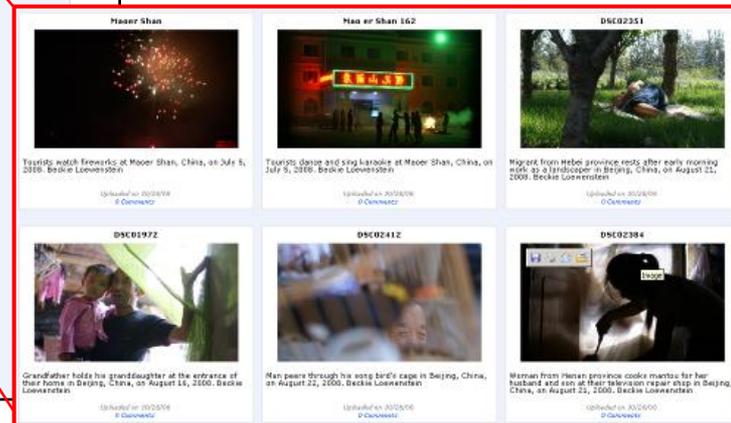

Name: NSEP Boren Fellows
Year: 2004/09 - 2005/06
Field of Study: Language & Literature
Impact Statement:
As a recipient of the NSEP David L. Boren Graduate Fellowship, I participated in Stanford University's ten-month advanced, intensive Japanese language training program in Yokohama, Japan. I received funding to continue my graduate research on the impacts of U.S. military bases in Japan and how this affects the bilateral security relationship between the U.S. and Japan. Upon the completion of my language training, I interned at the National Diet of Japan Upper House and the U.S. Embassy at Tokyo, focusing on Japan's free trade agreement policies and food security policies.

Program

Name: East-West Center
Year: 2004/06 - 2004/08
Field of Study: International Relations/Area Studies
Impact Statement:
The second research internship I completed at the EWC was completely different than the first in that in addition to analyzing U.S.-Japan security issues, I worked closely with a web development team to launch the public and private websites for Dr. Sheila Smith's "Shifting Terrain" project.
I frequently attended brown bag lectures and other events, which sparked my curiosity to learn

German IYLP Participants Explores E-Learning in the U.S.
Posted on 2007-03-15

The Vilco - the United State College of Baranac - was invited by the State Department through the International Visitor Leadership Program (IYLP) to the United States in April 2002 to visit institutes which are involved in distance learning. Their journey started in Washington; then continued on to Philadelphia, Phoenix and Tucson. Their group was offered the opportunity to visit a lot of schools, colleges and universities (e.g. the University of Phoenix online) where they met their American counterparts to exchange ideas. All teachers of the Vilco were very impressed by the variety of e-learning methods and the broad range of e-learning opportunities. Their own way of teaching in the Vilco was significantly influenced by these impressions and ideas. The group would like to express their gratitude for the opportunity to visit all of these institutions. Visit...
